News of Interest
Concerning Representatives in Nevada

The Central Meat market was again burglarized last night. The burglar effected entrance by cutting a small hole in a lower panel of the rear door, turning the key, and pulling the bolt. A similar hole was cut in the door between the rear room and the store, but why this was done is not known unless the burglar thought his door was also locked. The lock on this door was evidently unlocked by a skeleton key. The robber did not molest him safe in the office, but opened the cash register in the store from which he took $3.35 which had been left for change. Nothing else is missed by Mr. Hay.

Two suspicious looking hobos were seen sitting on the sidewalk across the way sizing up the place. Last night they were seen by Andy Richardson in the alley near the rear of the store. They attracted his attention by their suspicious actions and he watched them for some time. They evidently saw that they were being watched and went away, returning later when they entered the store.

The holes in the door are small and will only permit of a small hand entering through. Mr. Hay is today sizing up everybody's hands and says that if he finds one that will fit the hole he will be pretty certain of having the burglar.—Free Press.

Theodore Winters, one of the oldest as well as one of the most prominent stockmen and ranchers in the state of Nevada, died at his home on his large ranch near Washoe this morning at 2 o'clock, after being sick for over a year. He was 83 years of age and his death was not unexpected. He was conscious to the last moment, and before passing away said good-by to his children, who were gathered around his bedside, knowing that death was about to claim him.

The deceased was one of the best-known residents of this state, and for years took a very prominent part in Nevada politics. He was also a great stockman, and when a young man owned some famous race horses. He made and lost a fortune on the race tracks of this country, and was known all over the United States as a breeder of famous thoroughbred race horses.—Gazette.

After purchasing all the copper properties in the vicinity of Ely the Guggenheims have started looking for copper properties in other parts of Nevada, and early this week closed a deal for the control of a large property in the vicinity of this city. This property is seventeen miles from Reno, in the Pyramid mining district, and on the east side of Spanish Spring valley. It has been bonded by E. Twaddle and Charles Mickel to the agents of the Guggenheims for $300,000, and the people now in control will immediately begin developing it on a large scale. The Guggenheims have also sent agents to Nashville, north of Reno, to inspect properties and have agents looking at the property near Purdy, known as the Hill copper property. The Guggenheim agents have also inspected properties in Dogskin district and, although the property owned by Twaddle and Mickel has been the only one taken over, negotiations are being made for the bonding or purchase of other copper claims north of Reno.—Gazette.

George S. Blakeslee, deputy revenue collector of the fourth district, having the state of Nevada and Alpine county, California, for his field of work, has resigned and will leave the office on September 1st. His son-in-law, H. J. Humphrey, of Carson, has been appointed to succeed him by Revenue Collector Bell of Sacramento, who has jurisdiction over this territory. Mr. Humphrey has been working under Robert Grimmon as United States Marshal and will be succeeded by Henry Mack of Gardnerville.

Mr. Blakeslee was appointed deputy revenue collector six years ago, and under his administration the receipts of the Nevada district have more than doubled. Last year they increased 14 per cent over 1904. The duties of the office have increased considerably, the government receiving a heavy revenue from Nevada now.

Mr. Humphrey, who succeeds Mr. Blakeslee, is one of the prominent young Republicans of the state, and resides at Carson. He will remove to Reno immediately, and will have quarters in the new Federal building when it is completed.

Mr. Blakeslee resigns in order to attend to other business in which he is engaged.—Gazette.

of the people in accordance with the statutes in such cases made and provided for Saturday, August 13, 1906, for the purpose of electing delegates to said convention in accordance with the above basis of representation.

The Test
At said primary election, the test to be exacted of all voters shall be as follows: "I am a Republican."

The Primaries.
Resolved, That it is the sense of the State Central Committee that all delegates to the State Convention of the Republican party of Nevada, shall be elected by primaries, and in counties where that is not possible, all vacancies shall be filled by the various County Central Committees, or in their absence by the State Central Committee-men of said county and in cases of emergency that the State Central Committee-men of Ormsby, Storey and Washoe counties are hereby constituted an Executive Committee with full power to do and perform for the whole State Central Committee.

Resolved, That the County Central Committee-men of the various counties, in conjunction with the various State Central Committee-men shall be the sole judges of the hours during which the polls shall remain open.

Secretaries of the various County Central Committees are requested to forward a certified list of the delegates to the secretary of the State Central Committee. GEO. T. MILLS, Chairman. T. R. HOFFER, Secretary.

Unnecessary Expense.
Acute attacks of colic, diarrhoea and dysentery come without warning and prompt relief must be obtained. There is no necessity of incurring the expense of a physician's service in such cases if Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is at hand. A dose of this remedy will relieve the patient before a doctor could arrive. It has never been known to fail, even in the most severe and dangerous cases and no family should be without it.
